

Untouchable

An inspired poem:

They cannot touch you
Unless I allow them to
For My will is Shalom
Nothing missing
Nothing broken

I will not allow them to
This is your inheritance in Me
The righteousness brought about
By My presence in you

You are untouchable
A thousand may fall at your side
But it will not come near you or yours
Believe it so I can make it so

Faith in Me and not in the cleverness of strategy is the key
On your own you are not smarter than the enemy
But I AM wisdom
I AM truth
I AM enough

I can do what others have deemed impossible
I can do anything I please for those who are pleasing to Me
Through their child-like-faith dependance it will be

"A thousand may fall at your side, and ten thousand at your right hand, but it shall not come near you.

Only a spectator shall you be [yourself inaccessible in the secret place of the Most High] as you witness the reward of the wicked.

Untouchable

Because you have made the Lord your refuge, and the Most High your dwelling place, there shall no evil befall you, nor any plague or calamity come near your tent.

For He will give His angels [especial] charge over you to accompany and defend and preserve you in all your ways [of obedience and service].

They shall bear you up on their hands, lest you dash your foot against a stone.”

Psalm 91:7-12 (AMPC)
