Speak Into The Dark

An encouragement from the Lord:

If you can't see the light, speak into the dark. Call those things that are not yet as though they were. Speak what you need to see, and our creative words will cause those things to be.

The swamp has reigned long enough. It is time to begin the regeneration. Everything you can see will spring forth as you call it into being.

See what I see, speak what I speak, and create what I desire for the liberation of those who are bound and waiting to be freed.
