

Change

An inspired poem:

Change is good
Releasing my flow
Rearranging the status quo
Creating an over and above
A more than you know
As you let go
And follow, follow, follow

“Behold, I am doing a new thing; now it springs forth, do you not perceive it? I will make a way in the wilderness and rivers in the desert.”

Isaiah 43:19 (ESV)

“...unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it bears much fruit.

Whoever loves his life loses it, and whoever hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life.

If anyone serves me, he must follow me; and where I am, there will my servant be also.”

John 12:24-26 (ESV)
